

Fresh Advertising in Every Season? Print Your Branded Thermos Flasks and Cups

When we are out on the road with friends or working at the office desk, a sip of hot tea in winter or cool water in summer is always a treat. To store thermos cups or thermal mugs in our backpack or to place them on our desk is the perfect solution to enjoy the drinks we wish at the right temperature, at any time and in any place.

Since they turn out to be so useful – and since they are so in all seasons – our branded thermos flasks are highly sought-after corporate gifts and promotional products. By virtue of their versatility, they fit any company and can be given to any target. The variety of models available ensures anyone can find the perfect personalised thermos mugs or cups for their advertising campaign or team.

As for the target, our branded thermos flasks and cups are appreciated by anyone who loves outdoor activities, such as hiking in the mountains or picnics in the park. However, they come in handy in everyday life as well. Think of the office, where our custom thermos flasks and our branded travel cups allow anyone to enjoy a good hot tea or a cool drink during working hours.

Branded Thermos Flasks for Business: Corporate Gifts to Keep All Customers Warm as Toast

The term Thermos refers to cups, mugs or flasks with unbeatable thermal properties. Their usefulness as corporate gifts is unquestionable, and this is true both in everyday office life and in free time. They are very similar to classic custom mugs and personalised cups. Like these promotional products, custom thermos flasks and mugs too are designed for coffee and tea lovers. With our branded travel cups or personalised thermal mugs, they will be able to enjoy their favourite drink at any time during the day. For this reason, they will be a great success in any case. Companies can give them away to customers as corporate gifts after a purchase or during a trade fair. However, they can be offered to the work team as a thank you during a corporate event as well.

Branded Thermos Flasks as Promotional Products: All the Benefits

The first plus point of personalised thermal mugs and custom thermos flasks is their versatility. This manifests itself in different aspects and makes them first-class corporate gifts and promotional products. While on the one hand everyone can use them in any context, on the other the category of branded thermos flasks is filled with ideas and possibilities.

Custom thermos flasks are available in a wide range of models and sizes, so as to meet every need. We find some branded travel cups and personalised thermal mugs made of stainless steel or aluminium, for instance. In general, all personalised thermos mugs and flasks are equipped with a vacuum insulation system that maintains the temperature of the drinks for several hours. Some of our branded thermos cups and personalised travel coffee mugs feature bamboo parts too. Custom thermos flasks of this kind are perfect for sponsoring any brand as eco-friendly. Ideal to pair with personalised tote bags, these types of eco-friendly branded water bottles can be distributed during trade fairs or environmental-themed events.

Different in size, materials, design and other extras, our branded thermos cups and personalised thermal mugs are perfect for any brand and advertising campaign. Not least because everyone will be able to choose the perfect thermos flask, mug or cup for their communication needs and the preferences of their audience. It is important to assess whether your target loves going out or whether it is made up mostly of professionals who spend a lot of time at the desk. In the first case, our custom thermos flasks should be light and easy to handle. In the second case, our personalised thermal mugs should be more spacious, resistant and with a more attractive design.

In addition to the incredible versatility and practicality that distinguishes them, branded thermos flasks represent high-impact promotional products for their durability as well. The materials with which they are made provide them with outstanding resistance. For this reason, they can be used for a long time and promote your brand at every use. We must not forget that quality corporate gifts will present the company as reliable. The same happens with other similar promotional products, such as personalised thermal bottles, personalised metal water bottles and personalised aluminium water bottles.

Making Branded Thermos Flasks: How to Make Your Personalised Thermal Mugs and Cups Unique

Thermal cups, personalised travel mugs and custom thermos flasks are a great way to promote your brand or express your personality, thanks to the large surface area available for printing. Besides the logo, which is a must to remember the brand, various types of writing and images can be applied.

Branded thermos flasks and personalised travel mugs combine comfort and eye-catching aesthetics in a single practical item. The designs, including simple as well as refined models, can attract anyone. At the same time, the possibility of sipping a hot or cold drink anywhere and at any time of the year makes them promotional gifts that can be used by everyone and on any occasion. Above all, this explains why personalised flasks for hot drinks are among the most coveted and requested promotional products by all companies. Sponsoring your brand will undoubtedly be a success with these exceptional corporate gifts!

You can choose the colours of your brand or the palette of the event. Another option consists in picking up a neutral background, which can be in bamboo or steel. Depending on the promotional intent and the target you intend to distribute your custom thermos flasks to, you can then print or engrave your logo so that it looks linear, but clearly visible. A perfect idea if your target is rather young consists in using bright colours. You may even dare with some funny images or witty messages. Obviously, motivational phrases and the slogan of your business too will make a big impression on your personalised thermal mugs and branded travel cups. Not to mention that they will best promote your company!

Branded Thermos Flasks, Mugs and Cups: Which Personalised Thermal Mugs to Choose?

There are different types of personalised flasks for hot drinks, all suitable to best meet the needs of any brand. Here are some examples:

- Branded travel cups are an alternative to traditional thermos flasks. They are smaller and lighter. As a result, it will be extremely practical to carry them with you. They then represent ideal corporate gifts for team members who travel more often or for a target who is always on the go.
- Personalised flasks for hot drinks made of stainless steel and aluminium represent on the other hand the most classic models. They look naturally professional and elegant, just like personalised metal keyrings. If included in the welcome kit for new hires, they can be offered together with promotional metal pens, to create a coherent corporate gift. In this way, you will be distributing useful and, above all, quality gifts to your team.

- Branded thermos flasks made of plastic are lightweight and practical. However, they guarantee a certain resistance as well. In this case too, we find a very effective insulating wall that keeps the temperature of the drinks constant.

Custom thermos flasks differ by method of closure too. We find the snap closure, which is convenient and fast, as well as the screw closure. Personalised flasks for hot drinks with this type of closure are quite similar to a bottle. The assortment includes personalised thermal mugs with tea infuser and branded travel cups, which are small and convenient to take anywhere.

In conclusion, thermal cups and custom thermos flasks have an amazing effect when used as promotional products. They can become corporate gifts for the team or branded merchandise to offer to customers. They can be distributed in winter as much as in summer and prove to be useful indoors as well as outdoors. In this way, your branded thermos flasks will allow your logo, which will be clearly visible thanks to the large printing area, to be noticed by many people and at any time of the year.
